

LETTERS OF RECOMMENDATION

For Admission to the Research Master Social and Cultural Science

Students applying for admission to the Research Master programme Social and Cultural Science (RMSCS) need to enclose in their application two (2) letters of recommendation from previous academic supervisors (including contact details). Undergraduates from the Departments of Sociology, Communication Science, and Cultural Anthropology and Development Studies of the Radboud University Nijmegen, and these students only, may instead personally ask two faculty members of their academic unit whether they would recommend them for admission to the RMSCS and whether they would attest to their academic abilities and motivation for the research master programme. If so, it suffices to list the name, department and e-mail address of the two faculty members, accompanied by their signatures.
